Recent Developments & Outlook

Emerging markets equities advanced again, if only slightly, in the second quarter. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index (ND) moved along, gaining 1.7 % in local currencies, 0.9 % in US dollars and 0.5 % in euros. The MSCI EM Index (January 1988 = 100) now stands at $ 1,657 and € 1,674, respectively. Year-to-date, the (cap-weighted) EM benchmark advanced 5.6 % in local currencies, 4.9 % in US dollars and 2.6 % in euros. The average emerging market—as shown by the KAM Equally Weighted (EW) EM Index—has performed better again so far this year, outperforming the cap-weighted EM benchmark by between 0.8 and 2.4 percentage points, depending on the currency. The euro gained 0.4 % vs. the US dollar in the second quarter and now stands at 1.0910, up 2.2 % from its year-end 2022 level of 1.0673.

Last quarter, eighteen markets advanced and six markets declined. Greece (+23.3 %), Hungary (+21.8 %) and Turkey (+21.3 %) performed best, while China (-9.0 %), Thailand (-4.8 %) and the Czech Republic (-4.4 %) came in last. Year-to-date, seventeen markets are up and seven markets are down. The biggest winners in the first six months are Greece (+40.2 %), Egypt (+25.0 %) and Taiwan (+21.5 %). Colombia (-16.8 %), Thailand (-7.6 %) and Malaysia (-6.4 %) performed worst. Due to the ongoing poor performance of their currency, Egypt's and Turkey's gains in local currency turned into losses year-to-date if performance is measured in euros. Performance is in local currencies unless mentioned otherwise.

Among the three regions, Asia gained 0.3 % last quarter, Europe, Middle East, Africa (EMEA) was up 5.6 % and Latin America stood out with a 9.0 % gain. Year-to-date, each region advanced: Asia 5.3 %, EMEA 5.6 % and Latin America 7.5 %. Again, this performance is in local currencies.

Last quarter, the Emerging Markets Top Value Model Portfolio advanced 4.6 % in local currencies, 5.4 % in US dollars and 4.9 % in euros, outperforming the benchmark by between 2.9 and 4.5 percentage points, depending on the currency. Year-to-date, it is up 8.1 % in local currencies, 11.4 % US dollars and 9.0 % in euros, also outperforming the MSCI EM Index nicely—by between 2.5 and 6.5 percentage points, depending on the currency. For details on the recent performance of national MSCI indices, benchmarks and strategies please see page 6.

There was no change in our performance ratings last quarter. Our Top Value Model Portfolio continues to hold the eight “Buy”-rated markets Brazil, Chile, China, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Poland and Taiwan. According to our analyses, an equally weighted combination of these most attractively valued markets offers the highest expectation of long-term risk-adjusted performance.

The table below shows how the EM Top Value Model Portfolio compares to three alternatives as of June 30, 2023 based on selected valuation and return measures:

| | Valuation Ratios | | | Rates of Return (%) | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------|------------|-------------|---------------------|-------------|-------------|
| | PBV | PCF | PE | DY | CFRoE | RoE |
| EM Top Value Model Portfolio | 1.39 | 6.3 | 10.0 | 5.25 | 22.1 | 13.9 |
| MSCI Emerging Markets Index | 1.63 | 9.1 | 13.6 | 3.26 | 17.8 | 12.0 |
| MSCI World Index (DM) | 3.00 | 13.6 | 20.3 | 2.00 | 22.1 | 14.8 |
| MSCI EM Growth Index | 3.06 | 13.0 | 20.7 | 1.65 | 23.6 | 14.8 |

The Emerging Markets Top Value Model Portfolio is now undervalued by 27 % compared to the MSCI Emerging Markets (Standard) Index, by 55 % compared to the MSCI World Index of the developed markets (DM) and by 57 % compared to the MSCI EM Growth Index. This extreme undervaluation is not justified by the underlying fundamentals and for that reason we expect that the significant recent outperformance of the Top Value Model Portfolio will continue over the next three to five years.

Valuation History: Emerging Markets Compared with the Developed Markets

*Average: Price/Book Value, Price/Cash Flow, Price/Earnings, Price/Dividend

According to our analyses of the underlying fundamentals (book value, cash flow, earnings and dividends), the asset class emerging markets equities is now undervalued by more than one third compared with the developed markets. As the chart shows, only rarely in its 34-year history—at its inception, in the late 1990s and in the early 2000s—was the undervaluation as pronounced as it is now. There were also several periods when the ratio was above one. At those times, it was generally assumed that emerging markets equities deserve a valuation premium due to the higher expected growth rates of their fundamentals.

Charts

Total Return Index, Price Index & Relative Strength versus the MSCI EM Index

The indices are based on the monthly returns of each national market as reported by Morgan Stanley Capital International (MSCI) Perspective. Total return indices are calculated with net dividends reinvested. Relative strength versus the MSCI EM Index is defined as the specific regional, national or strategy total return index in U.S. dollars divided by the MSCI EM Index total return index in U.S. dollars. All indices are charted going back at least 84 months, and always rebased to 100 on the corresponding past December 31 (8 years back).

Absolute Valuation

Ratios are based on current price indices and reported 12-month trailing fundamentals.

- PBV (Price-to-book value ratio)
- PCE (Price-to-cash flow ratio)
